

BRYAN'S ADDRESS IS A POLITICAL COUP

LEADERS WAKE TO IT TODAY

Established "Bryan Platform"

SEN. WILLIAMS OFFENDED

Report Says South is Op- posed to Policy on Gov- ernment Ownership

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The brightest lights in the political firmament today are realizing that Mr. Bryan last night under the guise of delivering an address effected a "coup d'état" before their eyes, which today is hailed as "Bryan's platform."

Such leaders as Nixon can't decide whether to accept it as safe and label it "democratic," or reject it.

Felt Fine This Morning

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Mr. Bryan was up early this morning. There was no trace of hoarseness and he said he never felt better in his life. He mingled with the people in the lobby before 8 o'clock, having already breakfasted with his family in his apartments.

John Sharp Offended?

It is said Bryan offended John Sharp Williams in London when discussing government ownership. It is significant that Williams landed the day before Bryan and hastened on home, without awaiting the reception. Southerners days ago said Bryan would alienate the whole south if he advocated government ownership.

Bryan in New Haven

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 31.—Bryan arrived here and was met by state and municipal officials of the New England states.

He expressed sorrow at the death of Rosewater and sent a telegram of condolence for himself and his wife to Mrs. Rosewater.

His Wonderful Welcome

No private citizen in the memory of New Yorkers has ever had the welcome home that was extended to Col. William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, as he passed through Broadway from the Battery to the Victoria hotel.

He admitted this in a short speech made after he had been propelled by sheer force by a small force of policemen, through the human maelstrom from the carriage in which he had ridden into the hotel.

"New York is no longer the 'enemy's country,'" declared Col. Bryan to the friends who were greeting him along Broadway. "Ten years ago conditions were such that I was compelled to characterize this city as the 'enemy's country,' but today I know that I was wrong. This is democracy's stronghold, and I am glad to be here."

Mr. Bryan's speech at this time was by all odds the hit of his present visit here.

Ten Years Ago and Now

Ten years ago a parade marched up Broadway, a parade called into life by this same William Jennings Bryan. Hour after hour, silent determined men, young, middle aged and

GEBHART IS PRESIDENT OF LEAGUES

Six New Leagues are Received

LUTHERANS ON BOAT RIDE

Takes up Afternoon and Session and Reception Come Tonight

Wisconsin convention of Luther leagues at this morning's business session elected Rev. Horace K. Gebhart of Platteville president, elected other officers, transacted business before it, and this afternoon is enjoying a river trip on the steamer Gallardo. Reports from various state leagues this morning showed them to be in a flourishing condition. Six new leagues were admitted to membership at the morning session at the English Lutheran church.

Officers elected:

President—Rev. Horace K. Gebhart, Platteville.

Vice president—Rev. William Eckert, Racine.

Secretary—Grover H. Rapps, Milwaukee.

General secretary—Rev. Gustave Stearns, Milwaukee.

Treasurer—Miss Jennie Outman, La Crosse.

The program was continued this afternoon according to the previously announced program until 4 o'clock when the delegates and the friends sought the river and enjoyed the excursion.

This evening the musical numbers will be an anthem by the choir and a solo by Miss Alida Lindsay. A reception will follow the conclusion of this evening's closing session.

The Opening Session

The annual convention of Wisconsin Luther leagues opened last night at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Holy Trinity, on West avenue and Ferry street.

Rev. Gustav Stearns of Milwaukee, president of the league, presided at the meeting. President Stearns delivered the opening address to the visiting delegations and complimented highly the work of Rev. Clemens in securing the convention.

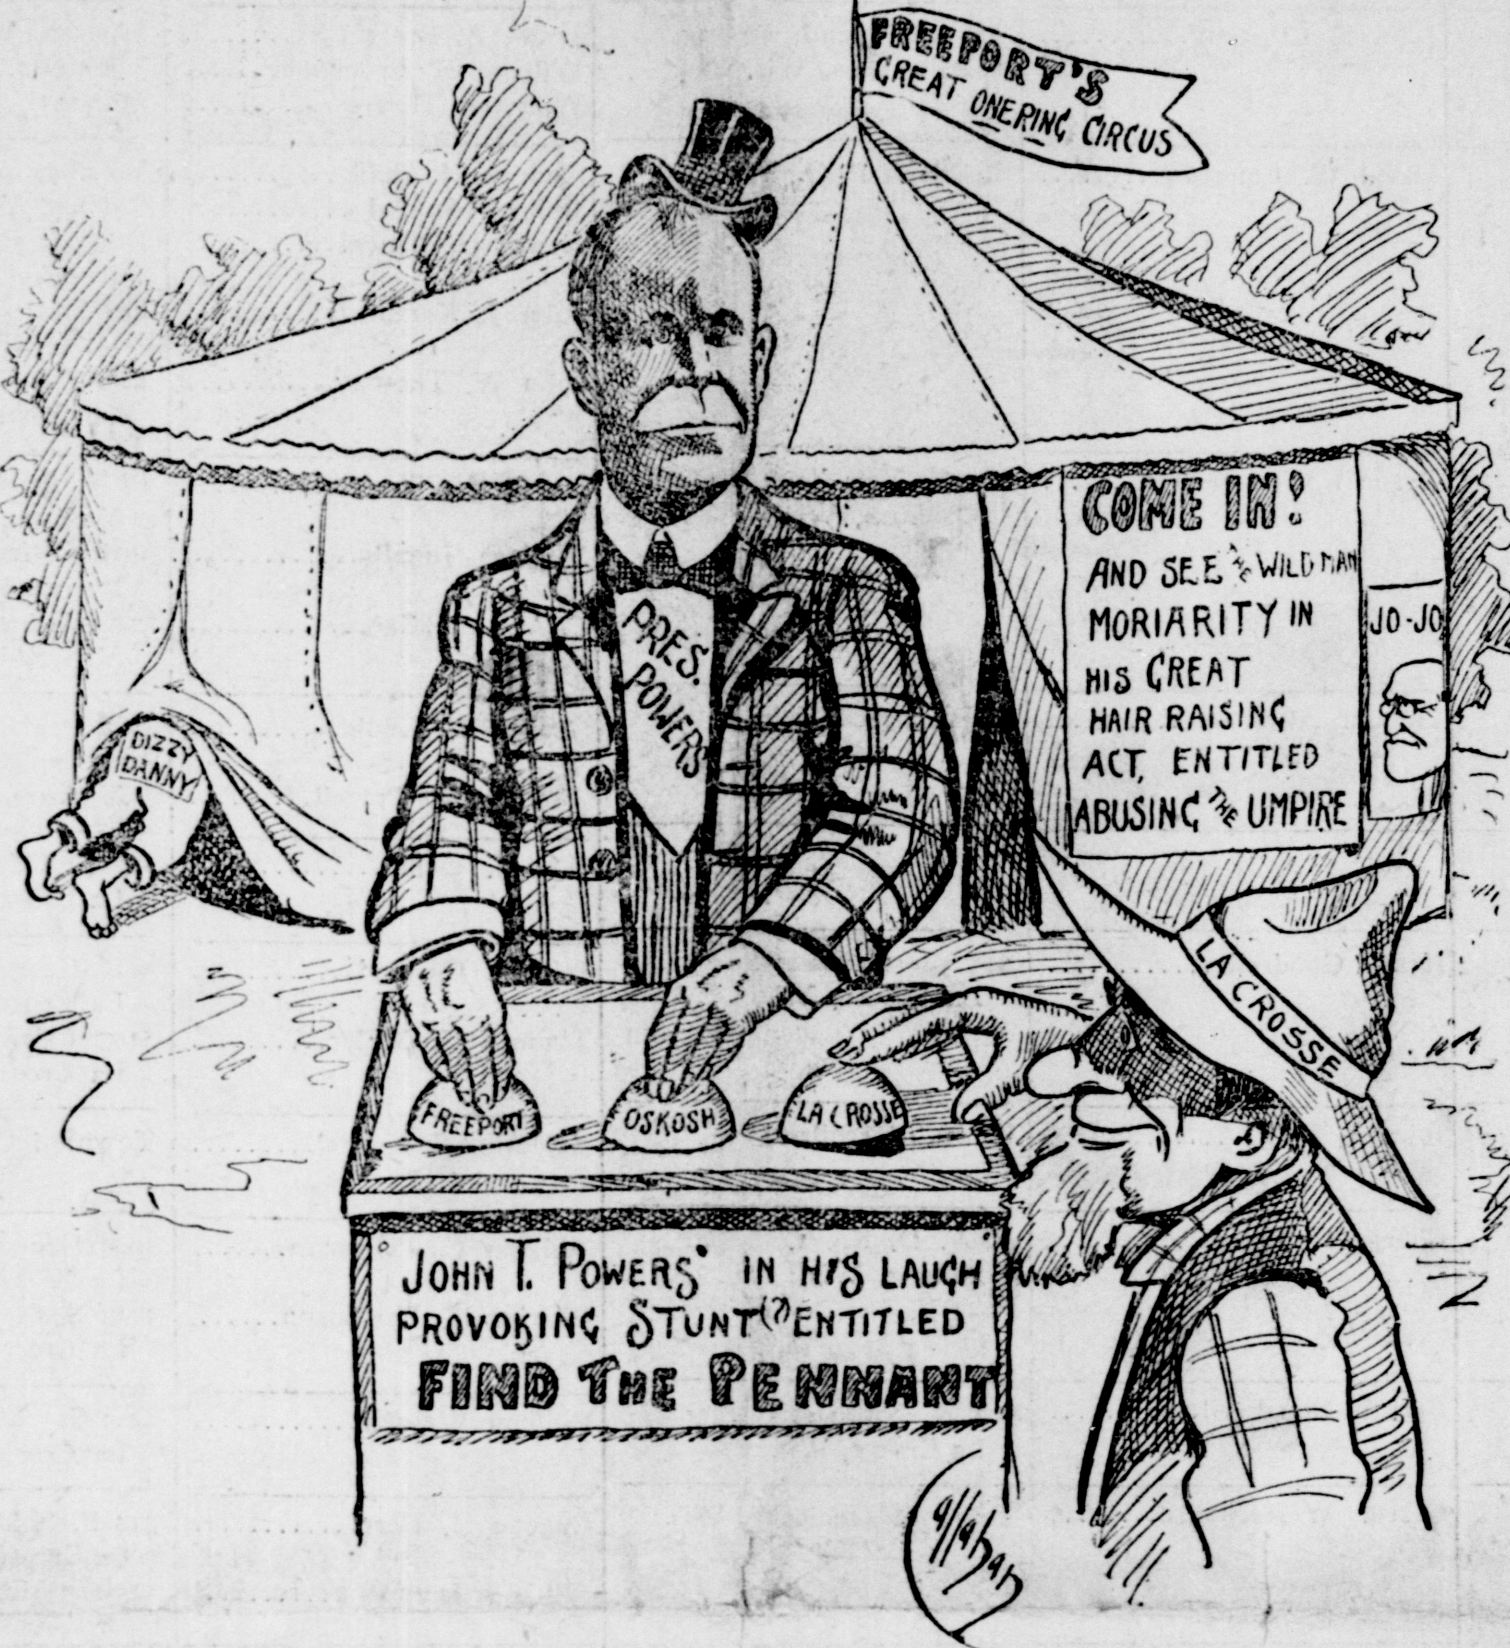

The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. J. J. Clemens of the English Lutheran church of La Crosse.

The topic of the evening was the missionary work done by members of the Luther league who gave up their work in easier fields and went among the different peoples to teach them of Christ.

The first topic was divided into four sections, the first part being taken up by Rev. Clemens of La Crosse.

"Among the Icelanders," was the subject upon which Rev. Clemens spoke. His story dated back to the beginning of the seventeenth century when the mode of travel was by canoes on water or by horseback on land. In those days of hardships the missionaries sent among the ignorant, at all times in danger from Indians and wild beasts while traveling and when in the settlements sometimes in

MINISTERS TO MARCH WITH HOSTS OF LABOR

The La Crosse ministers have accepted an invitation to march in the Labor day parade Monday morning.

REV. DR. FOWLER RE- TURNS FROM VACATION

Rev. J. K. Fowler, who is home from his summer rest, experienced both the pleasing and profitable in his month's absence. He was called to Rockford, Ill., to marry the daughter of a former parishioner whom he had married twenty-five years ago. At Winona Lake assembly, the great chautauqua and Northfield of the west, one of the many good things was a conference on "The Church and Labor," in which great addresses were given by Ralph N. Easley, secretary of the National Civic federation; by Prof. Graham Taylor of the Chicago commons and by Charles Stelzle, another leader in church and labor circles.

Dr. Fowler resumes the regular services of the church throughout next week.

Sunday, the morning service celebrates the third anniversary of the pastorate, and at night the pastor proposes in his "Echoes from Winona Assembly," to include a full report of the labor conference and the advance shown in the cause of the working man. It is timely with Labor day just following.

RUSH FOR LICENSES

The rush for hunting licenses is on at the office of the county clerk and eighty-seven were issued yesterday.

WEATHER & WATER

- Fair and warmer tonight and Saturday.
- Coollest, 56; warmest, 76.
- Stage of water 6 feet.

DURLAND TELLS INTEN- TIONS OF HIS ELECTION

A new feature was introduced into the first district assembly campaign of the republican party by the dissemination yesterday of a card by Candidate J. J. Durland upon which he defines his position as to future legislation. This expression is expected to provoke a discussion of more than local importance, as it draws Governor Davidson directly into the controversy.

Early in the campaign, before the candidacy of Dr. Miller was announced, reform republicans asked Mr. Durland to pledge himself to the proposed laws advocated by both Davidson and Lenroot. This Mr. Durland declined to do, consenting only to make a general statement in which he pledged support to "republican principles." All efforts to secure from him a promise to "support the caucus measures of the republican party in the assembly" failed. Owing to the fact that during his last term he opposed all the republican caucus measures and voted for all the stalwart amendments, this refusal was taken as an intimation that he would continue to oppose reform laws. That was the reason Dr. Miller was induced to run.

The statement published yesterday is little more definite than the original pledge, and is branded by La Follette men as an attempt to ride into office on Governor Davidson's popularity. The statement of principles is as follows:

"As strenuous effort is being made to misrepresent me, I desire to again state my position politically.

"I have lived in this county eighteen years and faithfully worked with and for the republican party. I signed Governor Davidson's nomination papers and shall heartily labor for his nomination and election. If he and I are nominated and elected, I shall earnestly support his administration as well as the republican state platform of 1906.

"JNO. J. DURLAND."

The publication of this statement promptly brought from the wheel horses of the party, both Davidson and Lenroot brands, the declaration that Governor Davidson when in La Crosse called special attention to Mr. Durland's record in the legislature, stamping it as very bad, and declaring that it was the duty of first district republicans to elect a progressive re-

UPPER NORTH SIDE TO HAVE STREET CARNIVAL

Cognizant of the influence of the present carnival to divert trade, the business men of the upper north side, near Grand Crossing, have appointed Herbert Coolidge to correspond with carnival managers with a view to securing an attraction for that end of the city.

MRS. R. S. HYDE IS LAID TO REST

The funeral of Mrs. Robert Hyde was held from the residence, 1224 King street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The services, which were conducted by the Rev. Henry Faville, were simple and impressive.

Two selections, "Crossing the Bar," and "Sleep on, Beloved, Sleep," were rendered by Miss Barbara Russell. The pallbearers were Charles Rogers, Walter Losey, Mortimer Thompson, G. Van Steenwyk, Dr. Bernard Dorsett and Jesse Higbee.

Interment was made at the Oak Grove cemetery.

publican to succeed Mr. Durland. They say he was so emphatic regarding the matter that he is certain to represent the efforts of Mr. Durland to secure nomination upon the Davidson popularity, only thereafter to "do what he is telephoned to do by La Crosse stalwarts." It is intimated that more will be heard of this alleged subterfuge before primary day.

It is said by both Davidson and Lenroot men that Mr. Durland was moved to this expedient by the fact that he found the primaries were going against him at a fast rate. He felt defeat was impending and would beo overwhelming. He thought he saw a chance in the on-rushing wave of Davidson sentiment. Davidson men are of the opinion that he made a mistake in not holding back his last move until the day before the primaries so there could be no way of exposing it. As it is, they say, it will not avail to stem the tide that is flowing against him.

OMAHA POLITICAL LEAD- ER SITS DOWN AND DIES

SMILES ON GIRLS; FINGERS CUT OFF

Anxiety of Buckheim to be Pleasant is Disast- rous

Intent upon making himself agreeable to several girls in the baking room at Ruplin's bakery yesterday afternoon Riehold Buckheim, an employe, let his hand drop into the arm of a rapidly revolving breadmixing machine which snipped off three fingers in a twinkling.

Mr. Buckheim's expansive smile faded as he realized the extent of the accident, and Dr. Egan who was summoned ordered the young man taken to St. Francis hospital where the wounds were dressed.

Poisoned Picking Nuts

David Hazlett, a tailor employed at Ludwig Bangberg's shop on the North side, is ill as the result of blood poisoning resulting from a hazle nutting trip. Both hands are covered with blisters. He blames poison ivy.

Loses Two Fingers

B. F. Perry, an employe, lost two fingers from his right hand by coming in contact accidentally with a band saw in the plant of the Riverside box factory yesterday afternoon.

ANOTHER RESIGNATION

To accommodate the ever-increasing number of aliens seeking naturalization papers while the old law requiring only a $2 fee lasts, Judge Fruit has appointed next Monday to make out citizenship papers again. The new law is effective next month.

MEDWYTSKY ENTERS GAME

Fielder Medwysky has gone to Green Bay to rejoin and bolster up the champs, his throwing arm being fully restored.

Thomas Asmussen, manager for Eau Claire, who jumped his contract, has been outlawed by the American League federation.

PLUCKED FOR HIS WATCH

Arthur Erickson, an employe of the State bank, lost his watch last night at the carnival. The matter was reported to the police about 9 o'clock and every effort is being made to apprehend the "dip" who must have taken it.

AYLWARD AT K. OF P. HALL

Owing to occupancy for lodge purposes the democratic committee in charge of John A. Aylward's meeting has been unable to secure Woodman hall. Knights of Pythias hall, over Coren's store, has been engaged for the event, which occurs at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

Senatorial Defeat Hastened End

FOUND BY JUDGE IN COURT

Editor of Omaha Bee Met Death in Sitting Posi- tion While Resting

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 31.—Editor Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee, just defeated for the nomination to the United States senate, long prominent in all the stirring events in Nebraska, died suddenly last night.

Rosewater was found dead in the district court room in the Bee building by Judge Troup. He apparently went in and sat on the bench in the rear of the room to rest, and fell asleep.

The judge found him reclining easily against the radiator. It had been his custom to rest in various quiet parts of the building.

The family did not notice his absence until his wife missed him from his bed at 5 o'clock this morning. The city was searched fearing foul play. No trace was found until the judge entered court.

Rosewater just returned from addressing the G. A. R. at Waterloo, Ia. He was seen entering the building at 8 o'clock last night. He was the heaviest insured man in the state, his policies amounting to $275,000.

BRING SEAGIRT SHOOT TO OHIO IN FUTURE

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
SEAGIRT, N. J., Aug. 31.—The National Rifle association selected directors pledged tooust the president, Gen. Spencer, and move the shoot to Ohio. New Jersey spent a quarter of a million dollars on the range to accommodate the association, but the west demands a more central location.

NEARY WOULD MEET WIN- NER OF GOLDFIELD BOUT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 31.—Charlie Neary today posted $1,000 to meet the winner of the Gans-Nelson bout.

FEAR REVOLUTIONISTS WILL CAPTURE BOATS

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—It is reported a vessel loaded with arms and equipment for the Cuban rebels has sailed from Wilmington, Del. Officers of the Ward line today said they fear the insurgents will capture the steamer Segurancal upon which was shipped military supplies for the Cuban government. The capture of the steamer Collado by the insurgents is reported.

Wakes on an Engine Pilot

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 31.—Sleeping as peacefully as a babe on the seat of his farm wagon as his old horse ambled slowly along, William Johnson had a surprising awakening yesterday. From the midst of dreamland he found himself clinging to the pilot of a freight train's locomotive with the wreck of his wagon about him.

Johnson's sleep had progressed sweetly until his horse, homeward bound, started over a Pennsylvania railroad crossing. A heavy freight train was close to the crossing. The engineer saw the sleeping man and the slowly moving horse and sounded his whistle loud enough, he said, to awaken a graveyard. Johnson slumbered on and the horse refused to quicken its pace.

The engine hit the horse, tossing Johnson in the air, and when he came down he landed squarely on the pilot. He was wide awake then and excitedly clutched the engine. When the train was stopped and the frightened engineer ran up to look at the supposed dead man, Johnson exclaimed: "What did you want to wake me up that way for?"

The horse was uninjured also.

STRANGE DIDN'T OPPOSE RATE BILL

OCOONTO, Wis., Aug. 31.—W. D. Connor's attempt in his speech at La Crosse to make it appear that John Strange opposed passage of the railway commission law has brought forth an unqualified denial from Mr. Strange, who is campaigning in this county.

"It is a well known fact that I was at the time to which Mr. Connor referred only a minority stockholder in the Strange Lumber company, and that I was not even a director. It is known by everyone who knows anything of that matter that I did all that I could to keep the Strange Lumber company from taking that position in opposition to the railway commission law. To my way of thinking, it is beneath the dignity of any man who is seeking the office of lieutenant governor of the state of Wisconsin, to wilfully misrepresent the facts regarding an opponent."

A FEW SAMPLES OF TESTIMO- NIALS THAT MAY BE SEEN AT KEEFE COLLEGE

A few samples of the hundreds of testimonials that may be seen at the Keefe Business college office.

This is to certify that I attended the Keefe Business college at La Crosse last term and am highly pleased with the course. I finished the commercial course in about four months and am now holding a good position. The system of bookkeeping taught is worth many times the price of tuition, and I do not think a young person could make a better investment than to take a course in this high class business college.

Herb Thompson, 1906.

Later: Courtenay, N. Dak., Aug. 27. I have a dandy position with Fodholdt Bros., Courtenay, N. D., at a salary of $85.00 per month.

I think your college the shortest cut to a good paying position of anything I know of.

Thanking you for the many past favors,

Herb Thompson.

My son attended the Keefe Business college last term and I am very much pleased with the advancement he has made. He finished the shorthand course and almost completed the bookkeeping course, and would have finished all the work had he been in school all term. I can heartily recommend the Keefe college.

Mrs. Gilbert Anderson,
Cor. Seventh and Main.

This is to certify that my daughter, Loretta, attended the Keefe Business College during the year 1906. I am well pleased with the school and would recommend it to others.

P. A. Flanagan,
420 North Ninth street.

Dear Miss Keefe: I am still teaching shorthand and commercial work in the University of Washington, D. C., and I write you this morning to ask you to kindly send me my diploma. I want to have it framed so as to hang it in my department. It will be some credit to your college, and a great credit to me to have a diploma from a college that has as high a standing in the business community as yours. I am delighted with my work here.

Hoping you are well and wishing you every success, I am, sincerely yours,

Emma Morgan, '06.

Dear Miss Keefe: It gives me great pleasure to recommend your famous college. I am holding a splendid position in Chicago and although you offered me a $75.00 position in La Crosse I did not feel that I could afford to take it, my position here paying me much more than that, although I a little preferred to be in La Crosse as it would leave me at home. I have the names of several young people at Baraboo and when I take my vacation I will be there and you may be sure I will spend a fair share of my time trying to interest young people in your college. Hoping you are well and wishing your college the splendid success it so justly merits, I am sincerely yours,

Myrtle Hazen, '06.

I am getting along fine with my new position. They have had four different stenographers within the last month and not one of them seemed to be able to do the work. I have all kinds of figuring to do here and a great deal of work on the books.

Earl Warnes, with

Conley Camera Company, Rochester, Minn.

I am delighted with your course of studies. I am about two-thirds of the way through the course and I certainly would not take hundreds of dollars for what I have learned so far.

Mrs. Ruth Emberson.

Agua Calientes, Mex., June 29, 1906.

I have had the management of the only American drug store in Agua Calientes, Mex., for some time although I do not know a thing about drugs. The proprietor having been in the states for some time, left me in charge of the business. I went to work the first of the month as bookkeeper and paymaster for the American Smelting and Refining Co., one of the largest smelters in the world. They also have smelters all over Mexico and the United States. I feel that the commercial and shorthand course that I completed at the Keefe Business College at La Crosse has been the means of my success in the commercial world, and that it was the best investment of time and money I ever made. My railroad fare alone to La Crosse and return cost me over $160.00, but it was a good investment.

Wyatt Wood, '06.

I have been employed in Minneapolis for four years and whenever any one asks me to recommend a business college I always tell them to go to La Crosse and attend the Keefe. This is where I received my thorough training that has enabled me to cope with anything that I have come up against in a business line, and I have seen many others from other schools, who had to stand aside and let me pass.

Miss Rose Keefe,
La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Madam: Having left La Crosse some time ago for a better position I thought it proper to inform you. I am now holding a fine position in this city as private stenographer. Thanks to your school. I never really appreciated it until I had to go out and work for myself. The position I now hold has been held by several young men but all seemed to be slack in something and consequently their services were not required.

Yours respectfully,
R. Andrews,

THE LA CROSSE TRIBUNE

Published Every Afternoon except Sunday, at 121 Main St., La Crosse, Wis.

A NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE

By The Tribune Publishing Company

W. V. KIDDER Managing Editor

Daily by Carrier $5.00 per year

Daily by Mail $4.00 per year

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1904, at the Post Office at La Crosse, Wis., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Special Representatives: Payne & Young, Chicago, 948 Marquette Bldg.; New York City, 105 Potter Bldg.

TO NEWSPAPER READERS

The Tribune has something to offer you. Within a few days it will have representatives call on you and show you a premium you may have with your next year's subscription, the value and utility of which is such you cannot afford to overlook it.

This premium has been carefully selected from several hundred that were submitted to us, the choice being determined by a purpose to afford our subscribers an article of so universal and unquestionable value that no one will be willing to miss it.

EVERY WOMAN IN LA CROSSE WANTS THIS PREMIUM.

Nearly everybody takes The Tribune, anyway, so that the premium will be just so much extra. Remember, it goes to BOTH OLD AND NEW SUBSCRIBERS alike. Don't tie yourself up to any other proposition until you see it. You will regret it if you do. The Tribune proposes to distribute more than TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS ($2,000) worth of premiums among its friends and subscribers as evidence of our appreciation of the good will and patronage they have given us.

People do not take The Tribune to get a premium. We realize that. They take The Tribune because it is an INDEPENDENT newspaper; because it is not owned by the ice and coal and lighting and power and wool and wheat and street railway trusts; because it has no strings on it and can print all the news all the time; because it has "busted" the light trust, and driven out the trading stamp nuisance and cultivated a spirit of home patronage for home industry and paved the way for the prosecution and suppression of the ice trust that will soon be begun. They take it because IT IS A NEWSPAPER, not AN ORGAN.

But The Tribune wants its readers to feel that it is ready to give them as big a run for their money as any of the newspapers that can afford to spend trust-coined dollars for premiums to buy readers. That is the reason we have provided for our readers the most universally valuable and useful premium that has ever been offered in La Crosse.

We suggest again to our friends and subscribers that they wait for the appearance of our representative, who will take pleasure in showing them a premium that is certain to be received with greater satisfaction than anything ever offered by a newspaper in western Wisconsin.

MR. DURLAND "USING" THE GOVERNOR

Hon. J. J. Durland, than whom no assemblyman in the last Wisconsin legislature has a more emaculate stalwart record, was asked by members of the reform wing of the party to pledge himself to support the caucus measures of the republican party. They were willing to support him if he would make that promise, for they regarded his word as good. He declined to do so. Mr. Durland, however, made a pledge clothed in generalities in which he promised to support the "policies of the republican party." This was regarded as evasion, it being felt that the intent of Mr. Durland was to be free to vote for stalwart measures under the claim that they represented "republican policies." So Dr. Miller was brought out as the candidate of the progressive republicans. The campaign was going against Mr. Durland, and to stem the tide he yesterday made public a pledge in which he says, "If he (Davidson) and I are nominated and elected, I shall support his administration as well as the republican state platform of 1906."

Evidently Mr. Durland desires to take advantage of Governor Davidson's popularity. The arm-in-arm manner in which he links his own name and that of the governor is calculated to make voters believe he and the governor are chums and running mates.

BUT GOVERNOR DAVIDSON ADMONISHED HIS LA CROSSE READERS THAT THEY MUST DEFEAT MR. DURLAND. Mr. Davidson said Mr. Durland's record is BAD. He said he should give way to a republican who IS TRUE TO THE REFORM MOVEMENT.

At the beginning, had Mr. Durland said he would "support the republican caucus measures," he would have been returned to the legislature without opposition. He declined to do so. He took from the mouth of his stalwart adviser the reply that he would not go to Madison "with a collar on." He made it evident that he would not pledge himself to support reform measures because he did not intend to support them. It is too late now. Were he to make an unequivocal pledge such as he was asked to make in the first place, it would do him no good. The "half-breeds" are committed to the support of Dr. Miller. There are left to Mr. Durland the stalwart votes. As has been said before, it is now simply a matter of counting noses. If Mr. Durland goes back to the legislature it will be on stalwart votes and in spite of Governor Davidson and Mr. Lenroot and the rank and file of the supporters of both of them. If he is nominated and elected by the stalwarts, he will honestly represent them as he did before and will be under no obligation to the "half-breeds." It were better for him to fight it out as a stalwart, and not seek halfbreed votes under cover of a Davidson declaration that cannot fail to be offensive to Governor Davidson.

THE TREACHERY OF THE CARGILL ORGANS

When the Cargill-Gelatt newspaper combination was formed as a shortcut to emasculating the failing Morning Laughing Stock to save further expense, and incidentally to relieve Mr. Gelatt from the "common stock" burden he was tired of carrying, people expressed surprise that both the Morning Laughing Stock and the Evening Common Stock became effulgent in their compliments of Senator La Follette. The Cargill newspapers supporting La Follette! Could this thing be? People rubbed their eyes and read and re-read, and then went away talking to themselves.

But they know now. It was the old, old game. Mr. Gelatt foxily entered the camp of the senator under a flag of friendship, in order that he might strike a blow that was unexpected. He thought he could do more to undermine the senator as a participant in a family row within the stronghold than he could do assaulting the ramparts from without.

It isn't necessary, in order to support Governor Davidson, to assault La Follette. Other real La Follette papers are not doing that. But have you not seen the shingles falling from the roof of the La Follette block-house with every issue of the Cargill-Gelatt newspapers? Does there appear a single number in which some vicious, veiled thrust is not made at the senator? Having expressed surprise at the "incapacity" of Governor Davidson when he thought the outcome would be against him, Mr. Gelatt switches and goes roaring to the primaries as the great and only Davidson exponent when he has concluded Governor Davidson will surely win. "I did it! I nominated Davidson! I! I! I!" That is what will be heard when it is all over. And the public, that knows Mr. Gelatt's common stock career and that the stalwart Cargill papers could not make or unmake a single vote for anybody, will smile and smile.

The fact is, Mr. Cargill's Mr. Gelatt is not and never was and never will be a La Follette supporter. His newspapers are not run to injure public service grafts. Tired of defeat in open fight, they have resorted to ambush. It is their aim to accomplish by cunning what they could not do vi et armis. In the Davidson movement Mr. Cargill's Mr. Gelatt saw a vehicle for his use. He would make Davidson's popularity the undoing of the junior senator.

It will amount to just nothing. Governor Davidson, if nominated and elected, is too much the patriot to carry his fight over the nomination beyond the primaries. He will not love La Follette, but he will stand shoulder to shoulder with him for all legislation along the lines both have followed so persistently.

And after it is all over, the Morning Laughing Stock and the Evening Common Stock will drift back to their old moorings at the stalwart wharf.

DRIVES SHARP KNIFE INTO WRIST WHEN BLADE TURNS

Considerable excitement prevailed for a short time at the horseshoe department of the La Crosse Rubber mills when Jos. Marteau of 833 Gould street pierced his wrist on the inside near the palm with a knife used in his business.

The accident occurred just three minutes before 6 o'clock. Mr. Marteau was driving the knife on the table when the blade came out and turned and he forced his wrist down upon it.

The wound bled profusely. Dr. Rowles bandaged the wound. He is getting along nicely, but will be laid up for some time.

MANAGER OF UNIQUE HURT

A thrilling spectacle was witnessed yesterday morning south of the Mill street crossing when a spirited horse hitched to a light runabout became frightened at a puffing engine and began to rear and leap in the air.

The horse galloped along until it reached Ambrose's saloon, when it made a quick turn and threw Manager Michinsky of the Unique theater, out, and jumped out of the shafts.

O. R. Johnsthen, who had the reins, clung to them until the horse made the jump and then grabbed the animal by the halter.

Only a few small straps were broken and no damage was done except to the manager of the Unique, who received some painful bruises.

The scene was very exciting and it seems a miracle that the rig was not overturned and both men dashed up on the cement walk.

PAWNED WATCH AND PAWN BROKER SOLD IT

C. H. Hughes secured judgment against C. B. Stevens to the amount of $8.50. Hughes claimed that he pawned the watch to Stevens for $10 and that upon returning to get it, he found that the watch had been sold.

Hughes placed the value of the watch at $40 but this was not allowed by the court.

For I was aligned with the movement that has made Wisconsin a pioneer in reform legislation when to be allied to that movement was to be reckoned a crank and a faker, and I surely am not going to desert when the victory is all but won."

old, trudged over the hard stones, and in every heart there was hate for William Jennings Bryan. His picture, seen here and there in show windows, was hissed by the paraders. Until far into the night the "sound money" parade moved from the Battery to Madison Square.

Yesterday the same Broadway that greeted the sound money paraders with enthusiasm went crazy over the man the sound money paraders thought would ruin the country should be elected. There were no bands yesterday, simply a procession of carriages and William Jennings Bryan.

Mr. Bryan came ashore at Pier A from the yacht Illini at 4 o'clock.

Battery Park Jammed

Guarded by twenty-five mounted policemen and seventy-five patrolmen on foot, the carriages for the party were lined up in front of the offices of the dock commissioner. Packed into Battery park, on the plaza in front of the barge office, and along Battery place was a crowd of probably 6,000 persons. The appearance of Mr. Bryan at the door of the pier was the signal for a cheer such as had not been heard in that neighborhood since Admiral Dewey came home.

Acting Mayor McGowan extended the formal welcome of the city of New York in the name of the people of the city. Mr. Bryan responded in a sentence, in which he expressed his thanks.

There was a lot of confusion about starting the parade. The people near Mr. Bryan acted as if suffering from the combined efforts of the heat and Whitehall street firewater, and almost tore the clothes off the "peerless leader," swarmed over his carriage and scared the horses. Mr. Bryan had to ask them to make room before he could start.

Escorted by a squad of mounted police the parade moved rapidly up Broadway. The thoroughfare was pretty well cleared, street cars stopped as the carriages approached, and altogether it was a case of Bryan owning Broadway for the time being.

In the Enemy's Country

At no point on the line of the parade was Mr. Bryan more enthusiastic.

E. F. U. ENTERTAINS

The E. F. U. will initiate about 15 members tonight at the Woodman hall. After the initiation ice-cream and cake will be served. The Unique theater gave the society permission to have Master Jerome White and Prof. E. W. Schilling to entertain the company with a few selections. This will be followed by a dance.

Miss Minnie Schilberg, who underwent an operation for appendicitis last week, is spending a few days with Mrs. Oscar Peterson before returning to her home at Pidgeon Creek.

Makes Short Address

Mr. Bryan wound up his triumphal parade up Broadway and down Fifth avenue at the Victoria hotel at Broadway and Twenty-seventh street. Here was waiting the largest crowd of cheering admirers that he had encountered since leaving the Battery. As he disappeared in the portals of the hotel the crowd was yelling "speech" in one deafening roar. The "silver-tongued orator" appeared on the second-floor balcony on the corner of the hotel, and for several minutes was madly cheered. When he was able to be heard Mr. Bryan said:

"Ladies and gentlemen: I am so fearful of my words, so conservative in my statements that I have seldom had to retract anything I have ever said, but when a man makes a mistake he should be manly enough to acknowledge it. I wish to take back something I said about ten years ago. I spoke of this city as the enemy's country. I want to take that back now."

At the conclusion of his "retraction" Broadway and Twenty-seventh street pealed with cheers. Police officers started the crowd moving and Mr. Bryan, after shaking hands at the corridor of the hotel with some 2,000 people, went to the parlor where the reception proper was held.

Cards to Reception

The reception was a crushing success at which Mr. Bryan, in one of the parlors on the second floor, shook hands with over 2,000 visiting democrats, among whom were seventeen governors and ex-governors of states, twenty-four mayors of cities, nearly the entire democratic national committee and dozens of senators and representatives. A more representative gathering of democrats has seldom assembled at such a reception. The crowd which gathered to do honor to Mr. Bryan was lined up in Twenty-seventh street and was guided into the hotel and up the stairway by sixty policemen, who had hard work to keep out of the line any but the most distinguished and most prominent democrats who had cards of entrance.

Thousands endeavored to enter the hotel, and inside the crush was very great, from the time the reception began at 5 o'clock until at 6:30 the doors were closed. In the parlor in which Mr. Bryan greeted the visitors he was assisted by Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. E. F. Goltra, Mrs. Wetmore and several women, among whom was his niece, Mrs. Roy Spangler of Lincoln, Neb. Mrs. George von Puhl of Greensburg, Ind., also assisted.

At the Garden

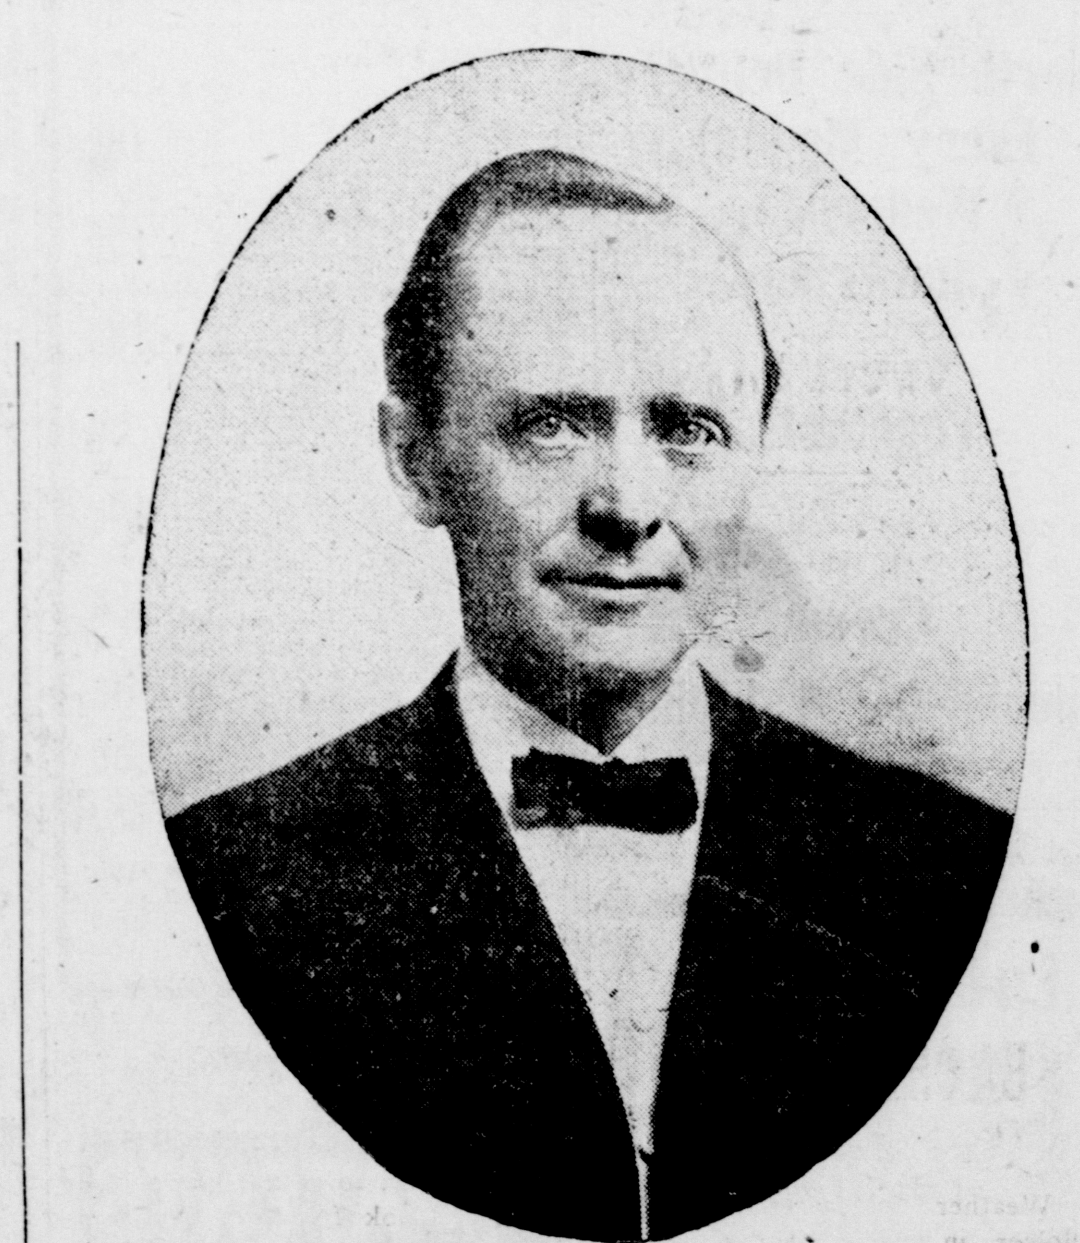

At night all roads led to Madison Square garden. Long before the doors of the big garden were swung open at 6 o'clock a stream of people flowed through the streets to Madison Square garden and there waited in patient line. The streets around the garden and the park were policed by 1,000 patrolmen. Those who did not have tickets were not permitted through the police lines. Turned back the crowd gathered behind the wall of obdurate police, and satisfied itself by viewing the garden from the outside.

The various state delegations had been provided with served tickets, and like the box holders at the opera, they came later. The "Nebraska Home Folks" made up in noise what they lacked in membership.

"Lariat Bill" in Evidence

"Lariat Bill" Dahlman, led the Nebraskans into the garden. The aristocratic box holders showed later.

Bryan democracy was everywhere apparent and good nature prevailed in spite of general humidity's busy forces. Coats were shed, and wilted collars were thrown aside. The market for fans was buoyant.

danger from their own congregation. The work was a noble one and was carried on by noble men, but the one man deserving the most praise in the work among the Icelanders was John Bjarnson, whose debut in this country was made in 1807 in the extreme northern part of Wisconsin, Minnesota and in Canada. He was the prime mover in having erected the church at Winnipeg in 1885. Then there were but two pastors, fourteen laymen and thirty-nine congregations or rather parishes which saw their pastor once in two or three months. His work was not in vain for now the largest congregations are from the northern parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and in Canada.

Among the Germans

"Among the Germans," by Rev. Paul H. Roth of Beloit, was the next topic. "I must speak of someone's brilliant work in this country among the Germans," he said. "There are scores of missionaries who have labored without stint to aid Christ in attracting followers to the flock, but I believe the one to receive praise above all others is Rev. Henry Maillenberg. He came to America Sept. 23, 1742, and about 250 years after Columbus had discovered America. This as you can see was a very raw time to begin operations here, but undaunted, he went to Charlestown. For reasons not made known he left Charlestown and went to Philadelphia, in the state where three-fifths of the population were Germans. He found the work in an awful condition, no one ready to attend his meetings. And in most places there was no place to conduct the meetings. It is a historical fact that Pennsylvania is known even now as the Lutheran colony. The situation that the churches were in was deplorable, but after three years' hard work in his unconnected parishes there were three goodly sized congregations in the larger towns of the state and the parishes were more like one body. He simply won the people to his side by his kind work. His salary, wardrobe and even his life was at the command of his flock and he not only taught the gospel, but common knowledge and his insight toward medicine and his being familiar with many languages led him to associate with all people no matter

URGE LARGE ATTENDANCE FOR RIVER CONVENTION

Mayor and Officers of Civic Bodies Receive Letters Asking That La Crosse Send Delegation

Mayor Torrance and officers of the commercial organizations in the city have received letters from President Thomas Wilkinson and Secretary L. B. Boswell of the Upper Mississippi Improvement association, urging upon them the necessity of a large attendance at the annual convention of the organization which meets at Minneapolis, Oct. 9 and 10.

The convention will be held in the mayor's reception room in the new Minneapolis city hall and headquarters for the association will be at the Nicollet hotel.

John C. Burns of La Crosse is vice president of the association for Wisconsin.

The letter says: "You are respectfully requested to be represented at the meeting of the association in Minneapolis."

"Every city and town, and all commercial, industrial and agricultural organizations, in the upper valley of the Mississippi river, is entitled to representation."

"Each civic or other organization, is invited to send three delegates. Delegates are expected to present proper credentials showing their appointment and the name of the organization they will represent."

"The names of delegates should be sent to the secretary as early as possible after their selection, prior to the meeting of the association."

"It is important that this meeting should be the largest and most representative of either of the four preceding meetings this association has held."

"It has required time and labor to prepare the preliminary work necessary to establish the claims of the people for the support of congress in obtaining the permanent improvement of the upper Mississippi river.

"Surveys and estimates of the United States engineers will be ready for presentation to the next session of congress, and the association should be prepared to take the question up with the rivers and harbors committee of the house, early during the coming session, in order that our claims may be recognized and appropriations obtained to commence the work."

"The sentiment of the people, voiced through the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association will be potent."

"We must show that the association is supported by all towns and cities and all of the commercial organizations in the upper valley. The support of the press is of greatest importance and should be solicited."

"It is necessary therefore, that each and every town and city, and all commercial, industrial and agricultural organizations, and every one who desires to see the great river restored as a commercial factor in the transportation of products, shall be present at the meeting of the association in Minneapolis and support this project."

"Negotiations with the railroads are now pending for reduced rates of fare for this meeting. Notice of this will be sent subsequently."

"All towns and cities which have not previously paid the assessment made by the ways and means committee, are requested to send name to the treasurer of this association."

The Kurth Brewing company's team of Columbus, Wis., which will play here Sept. 1, 2 and 3 with the W. B. U. team, has a good record, as shown by the games won and lost.

They played fourteen games and won eleven of them. They have played with such teams as Sisson and Sewell of Milwaukee, West Park of Milwaukee, Kilbourn, Watertown, Portage, Rio and Hartford. The games they have lost were due to over-confidence.

Their pitcher, Hutchinson, is one of the fastest on this part of the state.

Williams, the colored first baseman, who last year played with the St. Louis Giants, is a noted coverer of the initial sack.

Their lineup is as follows: Woltersford, 2b; Scheel, ss; Altschwager, cf; Loomis, lf; Donovan, 3b; Albrecht, rf; Koblitz, c; Williams, 1b; Hutchinson, p; Gruhn, p.

As the Athletics are a very strong team and have played excellent ball throughout the season a series of interesting games is expected.

JUDGE FRUIT GOES

Judge Fruit and Court Reporter Alfred Harrison left for Sparta today, where they will finish the summer term of court. They will hold court for Judge Paris at Washburn, Bayfield county, next Tuesday.

John Arntsen received a telegram announcing the death of his sister, Anna Arntsen, at Dickinson, N. D.

The remains are expected this evening. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Enter, Fall Hats!

In the theater, just before the hero makes his first appearance, there is a blare of trumpet while all the lesser actors and actorines point toward the hero, exclaiming, "He comes! He comes!"

We have no trumpets handy, we cannot herald our great display of Fall Hats in a very stagey way, so we content ourselves with saying:—

THEY'RE HERE! THEY'RE HERE!

And when you see them we expect your applause instantly. The prices of admission into a new fall hat at the Continental are as follows:—

$5.00 for the celebrated Stetson special soft or stiff.

We are sole agents in La Crosse for this brand. (None better made.)

$3.50 That is the price on the regular (Stetson) product.

At this price we carry an endless variety in both stiff and soft.

WEATHER MAN BACK

Weather Forecaster G. R. Oberholzer, in charge of the La Crosse office, has returned from the east where he has been enjoying his vacation.

Shortly before leaving Mr. Oberholzer was offered the office of chief of the Argentine weather department which he declined. The position was later offered to R. Q. Grant, former forecaster for La Crosse and vicinity and was accepted.

Mr. Oberholzer will have charge of the arrangements during the construction of the new weather bureau building which is to be built here.

what their eligion: His work began to tell on him and in October, 1887, he died. Even during the last few years of his life he was never idle, but doing good for others. He was the true missionary among the Germans.

The Norwegians

Rev. Gustav Stearns of Milwaukee, otherwise known as the "boy preacher," addressed the congregation next on "Among the Norwegians."

The most notable worker among the Norwegians," said Rev. Stearns, "I believe to be Rev. G. Hoyne. We should all take an interest in him, as a son of Wisconsin. He was born in Norway, but at the age of 3 he with his parents came to this country and settled at Port Washington. At the age of 7 he with his brother and his mother walked from Port Washington to Clayborn, Ia. He was ordained in the ministry at the age of 25. His first congregation was at Duluth, his next at Menominee and his last at Eau Claire. He changed his towns often to try to find a climate that would suit his health. His work will be remembered in every city where he ever had a congregation.

The English

The last speaker was Rev. William Frick of Milwaukee, who spoke on "Among the English."

Rev. Frick said it would be a hard matter to tell who has worked the hardest among the English. It is not necessary to say that there are many. "I might say Rev. Dr. Broeth of New York, was the hardest worker, but then there is Rev. G. L. Ruth of New Jersey. The one I believe is entitled to as much praise as any is Rev. W. Alfred Passant, for he is rightfully called the Malmberg of the west. His work in the west is so far ahead of the average that there can be no doubt but what he is the one who deserves praise if there is any to be bestowed."

STERLING WINS IN WINE SUIT

C. A. Sterling was victorious in a suit brought against him by the Stonehill Wine company. The company sued for liquors sold to Sterling.

It was claimed by Sterling that he took the liquors on trial and if they did not suit him he was to return them. This part of the case was decided in favor of Sterling.

The defendant admitted the debt of $9.50 worth of gin and paid for the same.

BOY OF 3, BURGLAR

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 31.—Lee Yates, a burglar fell asleep in the police station yesterday afternoon while his case was being investigated.

Lee is 3 years old, but, aided by his 5-year-old brother, Patsy, he entered Henry Marshall's home through a hole in a screen and pillaged one room, securing five rings and a gold watch. The police arrested them and both confessed. Where the plunder is the police cannot learn. Doctors wish to make skull operations on the boys if the father, Joe Yates, a machinist, will permit. The police favor sending the boys to some state school with parental permission, as no law covers their cases.

Help Those Who Are Helping You

There is nothing that helps a town prosper like buying the goods it manufactures.

There are represented herewith some of our most prosperous and best manufacturers of commodities—goods that are of the highest grade.

La Crosse has made wonderful strides of progress in five years. It is chiefly because the "trade at home motto" has imbued the people. Our citizens have scoffed at the highly colored and luring advertisements of the mail order grafters, which kept La Crosse in the ranks of the villages for decades, and have wisely determined to support home manufacturers—the people who support them.
